

Pre-Anesthetic Blood Testing Consent Form
Please Return Day of Surgery!

Your pet's safety and comfort are our primary concern at the Animal Medical Center. Before your pet has surgery on _____, he/she will be examined for any problems that could complicate anesthesia. Many conditions, including disorders of the liver, kidneys, or blood, cannot be detected unless blood testing is performed. It is much safer to discover any abnormalities before anesthesia is administered and surgery is performed. We are fully equipped to perform these important blood tests in our hospital, so we will have results immediately available. Due to increased risk associated with age, pre-anesthetic testing is required for all pets 7 years of age and older. However, we highly recommend blood screening before all surgical procedures in pets of any age. Please let us know if you have questions about this testing.

Animal Medical Center of Ontario is a laser surgical center. Our surgical laser package consists of the use of our CO2 laser for the surgical procedure rather than a traditional scalpel blade. The use of the surgical laser significantly decreases bleeding, swelling, and post-operative pain. The therapy laser is applied to the incision after the surgery to enhance healing and further decrease pain and inflammation. The additional fee for the laser package is $77.50.
